Weekend Painting Excursion: Looking at Spring

May 4-5-6, 2012 at Snowbird Inn

Brenda J. Clark is offering the following all-inclusive painting workshop, hosted by the Snowbird Inn, a few miles south of Leland, Michigan.

"No one may quite understand my color choices or my mark making. Yet, I hope that most people develop some feelings from my paintings, and that these feelings stir them to think, examine, and imagine. Such reflection is one of my artistic pursuits, while striving for a subliminal beauty of the paint stroke."

Come and enjoy a three-day workshop of painting outside in natural light. The workshop will be hosted at the Snowbird Inn. The Inn's setting will provide inspiration for all of the workshop sessions. We will utilize the large front porch, barn area, and garden – and we can even walk to the beach. Acrylic paint will be used. It is water based and offers transparency and an opaque quality, while allowing for layering of brilliant color during composition. Participants and the artist will investigate color observation of structures and landscape within sight, and translate these into mark-making. Each session will offer discussion, experimental exercises, and the opportunity to compose full paintings. Participants will paint on paper and wood, working transparent to thick.

All levels of artistic skill and understanding are welcome. Invite a friend and venture up to Leelanau County for a great painting excursion!

The all-inclusive painting workshop includes:

- three-day painting workshop with Brenda J. Clark.
- two nights accommodation at Snowbird Inn.
- two lavish breakfasts at Snowbird Inn.
- one box lunch from Sissons Deli of Leland.
- three-course meal (soup or salad, entree and dessert)
plus local wine or beer at Martha's Leelanau Table (Saturday evening).
- three days of snacks, appetizers, coffee, tea or water.
- professional grade woodblock for painting session II.
